AMERICAN BANKERS' ASSOCIATION OPENS THIRTY-FIRST CONVENTION

Mostly Addresses of Welcome With Replies, and Other Routine Business Occupy Attention During Today's Session.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11.—The thirty-first annual convention of the American Bankers' association opened here this morning at the new National theater, with about four thousand members responding to the roll call. The session was opened by President E. F. Swinney, president of the First National bank of Kansas City, Mo.

Bishop Henry Y. Satterlee delivered the opening prayer. After the roll call the Hon. Henry B. F. McFarland, president of the board of commissioners of the District of Columbia, welcomed the bankers on behalf of the city. He was followed by John Joy Edson, president of the Bankers' association, District of Columbia, who welcomed the members in behalf of the bankers of the District of Columbia. Several other welcoming addresses were delivered, to which President Swinney responded.

After President Swinney delivered his annual address, Secretary James R. Branch, of New York, and Treasurer Ralph Van Vechten, of Chicago, submitted their annual reports. Then the reports of the auditing committee, the executive council, and the committee on protection of currency, uniform laws, bureau of education, cipher code and international form of money order, were read and discussed.

After the consideration of the routine business before the convention had been finished, Frank A. Vanderlip, vice president of the National City bank, New York, and the Hon. Wm. B. Riddle, comptroller of the currency, Washington, D. C., delivered short addresses.

Immediately after adjournment the delegations from each state and territory met and elected members of the committee on nominations. That committee will meet later in the day and may make its report at the subsequent session of the convention with the understanding that the nominations of the committee shall not exclude the name of any other person otherwise nominated in the convention. Various state and territorial delegations also elected members of the executive council.

The program for this afternoon includes a reception at the White House by President Roosevelt to the members of the association and their ladies.

This evening the trustees of the Corcoran art gallery will give a reception to the delegates and their ladies at the gallery, and later in the evening Secretary Shaw and Mrs. Shaw will receive the delegates and their ladies at the Arlington hotel. The next business meeting of the convention will be held tomorrow morning.

The bankers applauded the mention of President Roosevelt's name in the welcoming address as signifying civic honesty.

The convention enthusiastically adopted a resolution thanking President Roosevelt for his action in bringing about peace between Russia and Japan.

Secretary of the Treasury Shaw delivered an address on the subject of a merchant marine.

SHERIFF TAKES OFFICES OF HUBBELL AND VIGIL BY FORCE

Order of Board of County Commissioners is Promptly Executed and New Appointees are Placed in Possession.

Another drama was enacted today in the fight for possession of the county offices made vacant by the recent removals by Governor Otero, when Sheriff Perfecto Armijo and deputies, in compliance with an order from the board of county commissioners, took forcible possession of the offices of Frank A. Hubbell and Esalvo Vigil in the court house.

Immediately upon the convening of the board of county commissioners this morning, two orders were passed directing Sheriff Armijo to expel the removed officials from their offices in the court house, and to deliver possession to the newly appointed officials to whom the offices rightfully belonged. The orders were so promptly executed by the sheriff that there was no chance for resistance.

Armed with the orders, Sheriff Armijo and deputies went to the office of Mr. Hubbell and demanded possession, but this was refused. The sheriff then sent a couple of deputies over the railing and they opened the door. Mr. Hubbell and his deputy, Joe J. Sheridan, were then forced to get out. The vault was then locked.

Whereas, Frank A. Hubbell is unlawfully holding possession of certain rooms in the court house, heretofore used as offices by the treasurer and ex-officio collector of the county, and has refused to deliver them to Justo R. Armijo, treasurer and ex-officio collector of the county, notwithstanding the order of the board heretofore made;

Now, therefore, it is ordered by the board that the sheriff of the county immediately expel and remove the said Frank A. Hubbell and his employees and agents from the said rooms and to deliver possession thereof to the said Justo R. Armijo, and thereafter to protect said Armijo in such possession if it should be necessary.

Order Against Vigil.

Whereas, Esalvo Vigil is unlawfully holding possession of the room in the court house heretofore used as an office by the superintendent of schools of the county, and has refused to deliver the same to Andrew B. Stroup, the superintendent of schools of the county, notwithstanding the order of the board heretofore made, now, therefore, it is ordered by the board that the sheriff of the county immediately expel and remove the said Esalvo Vigil and his employees and agents from the said room and to deliver possession to Andrew B. Stroup and thereafter to protect said Stroup in such possession as it should be necessary.

Counsel Call to Mob Law.

Counsel for Hubbell and Vigil denounce the action taken this morning as law and order, with a vengeance and of a new stamp. They contend that under all established precedents and decisions of the court this action is in utter disregard of law. They characterize such action as nothing but mob law. They are taking other steps in the court in order to bring every phase of the present controversy
